

THE NEW MEXICO JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY FALL CONFERENCE

"THE JEWISH MERCHANTS OF ALBUQUERQUE: BUILDING BUSINESSES AND COMMUNITY"

Although Jewish history in New Mexico had its beginnings when it was still a far-flung colony of Spain, it has attracted Jews as diverse as the German-born merchants of the 1800's to immigrant and first generation Jews whose roots were in Eastern Europe. They played a significant role in the commercial, civic and religious life of Albuquerque in the 20th century, building businesses and a vital community.
