

JANUARY 11, 2015: SAVE THE DATE!

Poetry Reading with Joan Logghe and Miriam Sagan and Writing Workshop with Joan Logghe

NMJHS and Temple Beth Shalom, Santa Fe, are co-sponsoring what promises to be an exciting two-part event: Free Poetry Reading with Joan Logghe and Miriam Sagan followed by a Writing Workshop (Suggested Donation) led by Joan Logghe.

Join us at Temple Beth Shalom for the Poetry Reading from 1:30 p.m. – 2:15 p.m. followed by a pre-registration only workshop, from 2:30 – 4:30 p.m.

Poetry Reading: Reading from work with a Jewish theme, join poets Miriam Sagan and Joan Logghe for a spirited reading. Both poets are active in Santa Fe's literary scene and co-edited an anthology Another Desert: Jewish Poetry of New Mexico (Sherman Asher Publishing). They will read from this collection plus more recent poems.

Writing Workshop:

The Blue Tortilla Moon: Writing your Jewish New Mexican Self.

Writings from our Jewish roots, Joan Logghe will present some readings to inspire your own memories, stories, and gifts of Jewish culture that your family keeps alive. Food, Festivals, and family are one tripod of Jewish life, and we will touch on all three.

Joan Logghe was Santa Fe's third Poet Laureate, serving from 2010-2012. She has taught everywhere and to all ages, from Santa Fe Community College and Ghost Ranch, to Zagreb, Croatia and Bratislava. Winner of a National Endowment for the Arts fellowship in poetry and co-founder of Tres Chicas Books, her latest books are The Singing Bowl, University of New Mexico Press, and editing Odes & Offerings, Sunstone Press, her final project as Poet Laureate.

Workshop Details:

1. Participants must pre-register and make the suggested donation prior to the Workshop with a minimum of 10 and maximum of 20 participants. S Suggested Donation: NMJHS and TBS Members $20.00 and non-members $25.00;
2. A “Wait-list” will be started once the workshop is full;
3. Please contact: Joy Rosenberg, Director, Education, Temple Beth Shalom, 205 E. Barcelona, Santa, Fe, 505- 982-6161, joy.rosenberg@sftbs.org